It is known to make a crude honey from honeydew or nectar. This is done in various ways, the most popular being to put the collected nectar or honeydew into a container such as a pot, and to store the container in the sun. The nectar or honeydew is said to ferment, and the fermentation produces a sugar rich fluid, which is then collected for storage in bottles or other containers.Q: Parsing Json using PHP This is the Json, {"Statuses":[{"Success":{"Usuario":"10","Mensaje":"Mensaje exitoso"}}]} Here the Success and Usuario is dynamic which can be user or userid. $json = file_get_contents(' or UserID}/statuses'); $users = json_decode($json); $user = $users->Statuses[0]; $name = $user->Success; $user = $name->Usuario; print_r($name); print_r($user); I want to print the following, The Usuario if Success. The message if status Success It will be a string if it is a string. If I use print_r, I get the following Success Array ( [0] => Array ( [Success] => Array ( [Usuario] => 10 82157476af
