The proposal was approved as it meets the requirements of the state agency’s gas delivery system laws. The project would move pipeline gas from the Wolfcamp shale field to the Permian Basin in West Texas. It would carry the gas 750 miles and would take some of the pressure out of gas that is in the process of flowing to the Gulf of Mexico. The project was opposed by environmental and watchdog groups, who charged it would damage the environment as it would impact the area in South Texas and Delta. The project, which needs the approval of the Energy Commission, is expected to create some 12,000 jobs. Exxon Mobil, Chevron and Enbridge are leading the project. It has a planned operation date of August 2021. Bangs on Carmichael.com and Domino's Pizza website go viral as result of third-party security breach Share this story:

Local Domino's franchisees claim the company is trying to "monetize" the security breach. (Carmichael.com) The creator of the "Bangs on Carmichael.com and Domino's Pizza website" has announced that he is handing the website over to a third party to be fixed. This part of Canada was undoubtedly already familiar with the teaser launch of the site, and its attendant security breach, but now it appears the caper has gone viral. On Tuesday, Carmichael.com and Domino's Pizza's respective websites were targeted by a third-party hacker, who gained access to the company's servers and did whatever they wanted with the data, be it inserting images of a woman's breasts and penis, or accessing customer payment and personal information. The culprit has now provided a cached version of the site, which features a walking cartoon of a woman with naked breasts and an erect penis. Carmichael.com's owner, Jon Gertner, claims that some of the information leaked included credit card numbers and information about company's employees, "which is a shame," but claims that

Download.Q: how to extract and read FIO embedded binary blob in python? There is a binary blob, which contains the FIO file format header. I want to get the file headers of all FIO in my local computer to make the following binary blob to binary blob. FIO binary format The file types are binary. So I don't have the full FIO binary header. So I tried to use struct and struct.unpack to get the whole header. But it didn't work. The following are my code: `import struct` `fio_data = ""\x01\x01\xD9\xFF\x2F\x00\xB7\x04\x00\x00\x1A\x00\x01\x07\x9A\x01\x00\x`
